Electric Spa Bed

VERSION 1.25

1.Welcome!

Congratulations on the purchase of your new electric table. Your new table has been skillfully crafted to exacting standards, utilizing high quality components and materials. With proper use and care, as outlined in this user's guide, your tables should provide a longtime of reliable performance. To insure the safe and correct use of your table, please take a moment to read this entire guide prior to using your table.

2.Precautions

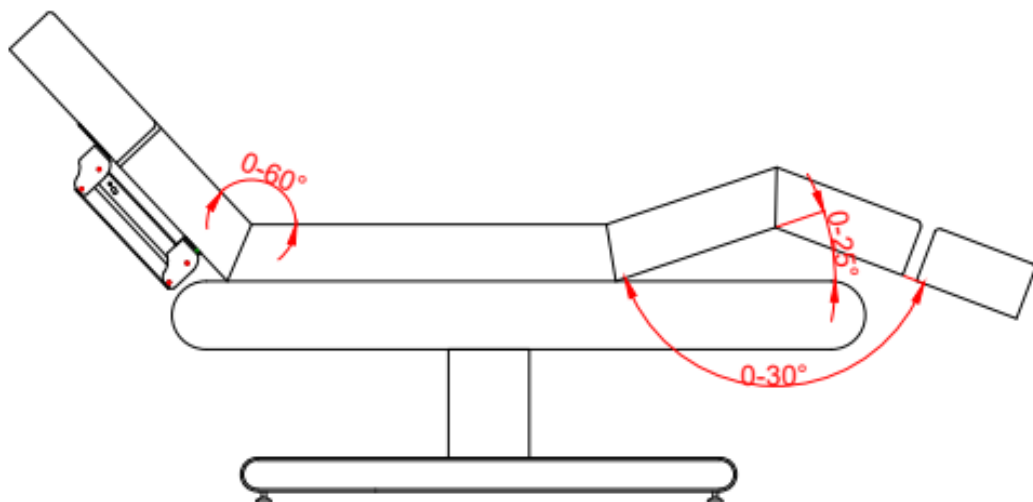

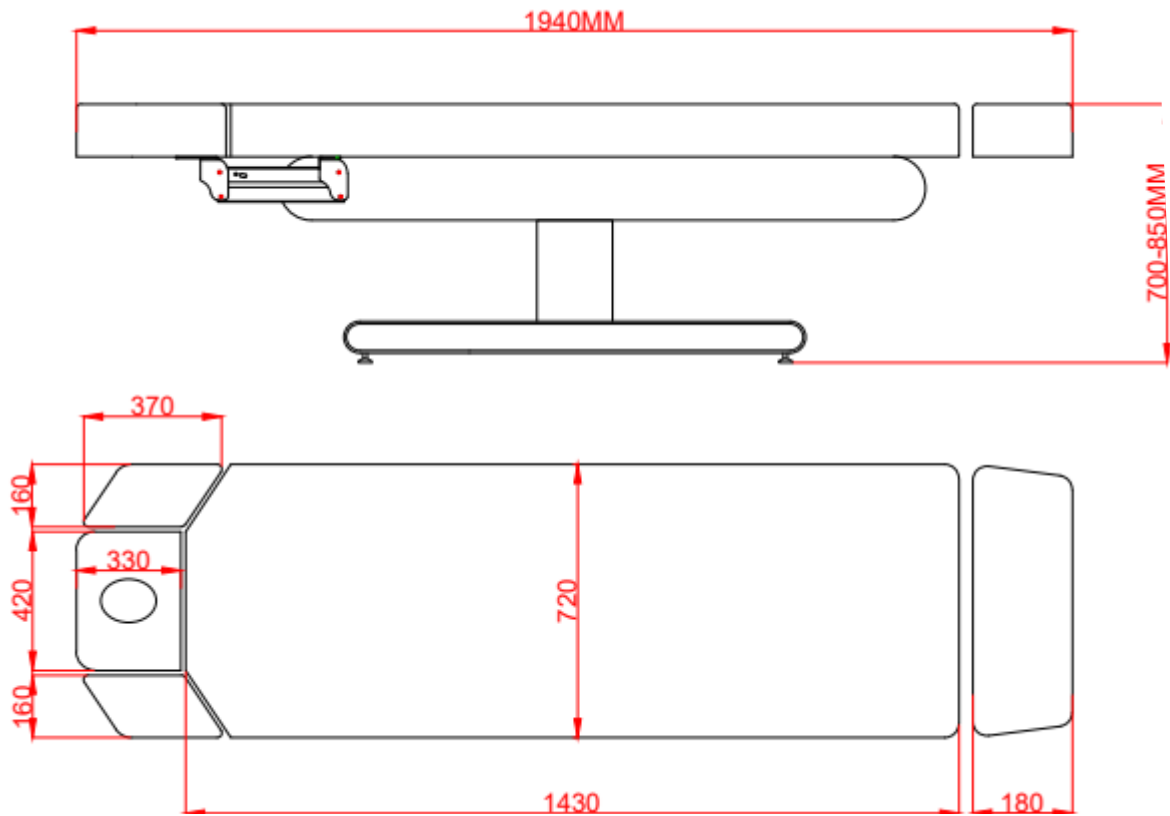

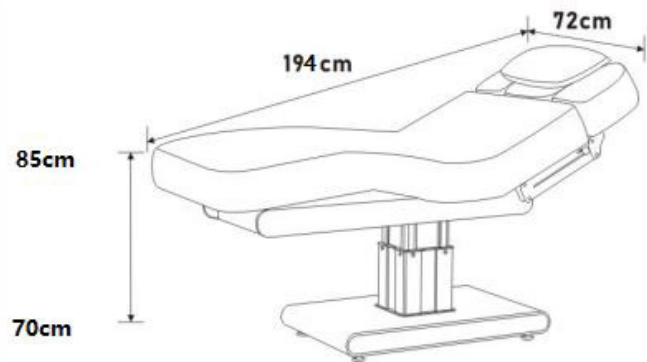

- (1) Maintain the table periodically. Make sure all screws are secure and the cable has not deteriorated or frayed. Make sure there are no cracks in the wood structure.
- (2) Do not overload the table beyond the recommended weight limit. This could result in serious injury to the user.
- (3) Do not use chemical etchant cleaners when cleaning the chromed frame. This could cause damage to the chrome layer. Use cold water and wipe dry.
- (4) Make sure when using the table that the base is on a solid surface and at the same level.

Table Weight Limits:

Position the client in the center of the table will help distribute the weight evenly and insure stability. Gently sit near (not on) the center of the table at first, then sit as close to the center (from the edge) as possible. The working weight is the combined weight of the client and the maximum amount of downward pressure being applied by the therapist. For example: For a client weighing 150kgs, the maximum working weight for the table 100kgs, the maximum downward pressure that can safely be applied is 250 kgs. As pressure applied at sideward angle puts considerably more stress on a table, the maximum sideward pressure should not exceed 50% of the maximum downward pressure. Recommended weight limit: Max.200KG

DO NOT EXCEED REFERRED MAXIMUM WORKING WEIGHT (Never Exceed The Load Limits Of The Table; Doing So May Result In Serious Injury And/Or Damage).
